

the u.s gov hasnt any given right to exploit tech to spy on any u.s citizen .
i.e the law that prevents illegal search and seizure.. apparently someone has had a seizure.. but not of property.. the gov cannot demand the ability to do so unless they have probable cause of a crime having been or being committed so just chill and let the tech grow and change.. cause by the time it could be implimented it would be out dated